Shocking Copperhend Depravity. The Cincinnati Commercial, speaking of the great ratification meeting in that city on Saturday, complains bitterly that, in the mottoes carried by the crowd there was nothing calculated to terrify the rebels, who will not have peace and the Union." This is a shocking instance of Copperhead depravity! The Abolitionists have exhausted that species of "terrifyiffg the rebels into peace," and their success has not been such as to encourage the Democracy in stealing the Abolition plan.

J. H. Wade for Congress in the 18th District.

The Democracy of the Eighteenth Ohio Congressional District held their Convention in the city of Cleveland, on last Saturday afternoon, and unanimously nominated J. H. WADE for Congress. Mr. WADE is an able, successful and influential business man of Cleveland, and will make a splendid run. It would be a glorious thing if the Democracy would elect him.

The Ladies for Little Mac. As certain passengers on the Michigan Central Railroad were disputing about polities in an angry way, a sensible man pro-posed to leave the question to the ladies. position was agreed to, says The F es Press, when the gentleman called upon those ladies who favored the election of Gen. McCleman to rise. In a moment all except one, and she wore spectacles and chin whiskers, rose to their feet. The effect was a happy one, and quieted the ill feeling more than all the convincing arguments which could have been expended in a day's CUNNING SOPHISTRY.—Under pretense of ustaining the Union, the people of this country are arged to vote in favor of a traight-out Abolition ticket; and if the istimore platform is indorsed at the polisext November, then the whole contest settes into the new phase of dismion, unless of can accure abolition. Are the American people prepared to sacr fice their blood and treasure in a contest of this character?

the greatest and grandest meeting last Saturday night ever witnessed there before. The Commercial admits that it was a monster demonstration. It says:

The Democracy had a very long and showy procession, and a very large mass meeting Saturday night. They had for a fortnight, been most diligently engaged in preparing a demonstration, and the result argues that they are well organized and zealous. The evening was pleasant, and the employment of all the bands in the city and surrounding country, the flight of rockets, glare of bonfires, and fiery gushing of roman candles, drew enormous crowds into the

The Enquirer thus notices the meeting:

It was also eminently fitting and proper that Cineinnati, which at the beginning of the war was the home of both our gallant nominees, McClellan and Pendleton, from which the former set out on that extraordinary and unexpected military career which would have closed in victory but for the interference of Lincoln, and which is now the residence of Mr. Pendleton, should make a demonstration that would be distinguished even among the mightiest assemblages of the land. Well has this duty been performed, as was attested last night by the vast concourse of people which thronged our streets, which filled our public squares and avenues with their shouts and rejoicings, who were literally an army with banners and animated by an enthusiasm that only can be felt by men on extraordinary occasions when their lives, their liberties, and their property are dependent on the result of a movement. We do not too strongly color the picture when we say that this monster meeting, on account of its peculiar character, will figure in the future remembrance of the people as a great historical occasion, and as marking the opening of a new political epoch. The contrast between it and the assemblage of those who a week ago, in the same place, gave in their adhesion to the waning fortunes of Lincoln, was so striking that even the most obtuse and blinded Lin-colnite could not but painfully feel and real-ize it. In this demonstration old party lines and associations were disregarded. In the ranks of the procession, and in the officers, were the old line Democracy, old line Whigs, Bell and Everett Union men, and a large number of others, who for the past three years have been estranged from the Democratic organization, but who now return and mingle their influence with that of their old associates. All shades of division were forgotten. All questions of difference ad-journed over to a more fitting season, it being recognized that there was but one duty to perform, and that was the defeat of that man who best; ides the country like the old man of the sea weighing it down into de-spondency and darkness, and the symbols of whose oppression have been the heaviest with which any people in modern times were ever afflicted. Mr. Cox's speech, which The Commercial regards as "the most adroit that has been made on his side of the question," is reported at length in all the leading papers of Cincinnati. It is an able and powerful speech.

SANDUSKY CITY, Sept. 18, 1864. EDITORS OHIO STATESMAN:

The Democracy of this city held their ratification meeting last night. The turn-out was the largest ever witnessed in this city. Thousands were present. A grand torch-light procession, bonfires, music and speaking were the order of the evening.
Speeches were made by the Hon. A. Banning.
Norton, Hon. Warren P. Noble and Hon.

Yours for Little Mac,

A Lincoln Electioneering Article. The paid organs of the Abolition party are doing all they can in a feeble way to re-elect their master to the Presidency; but their efforts are indifferently successful, because there is very little ability in them .-Below we give an article from a source enthusiastically in favor of LINCOLN, which is worth perusing, because it is ably written and because it contains, among things which are not true, more truth than can be found in the general run of Lincoln or-

(From The Richmond Enquirer of Sept. 5.)

The Democratic nominees in the United States are McClellan for President and Pendleton for Vice President. What concern have the people of these Confederate States in the fate of these candidates at the approaching election? In our opinion, the interest and hope of peace is not greatly adproaching election? In our opinion, the interest and hope of peace is not greatly advanced by these nominations. From Gen. McClellan our people can have but little hope of peace, other than a reconstruction peace. * * What hope do his antecedents hold out that should encourage our people to believe that he would yield our nationality any sooner than Mr. Lincoln? He is by far the More Dangerous Man HE IS BY FAR THE MORE DANGEROUS MAN HE IS BY FAR THE MORE DANGEROUS MAN FOR US; had his policy been persistently followed, and the war conducted on the principles of civilized warfare, he might have divided our people, and, perhaps, conquered our liberties. With consummate abilities, he clearly foresaw that emancipation might possibly free the negroes, but could not unite the sections; that confiscation might enrich his soldiers, but could not reconsile our people; hence but could not reconcile our people; hence, with an earnest and honest love for the Union, he avoided those fatal acts, and con-Union, he avoided those fatal acts, and conducted the war for the restoration of the Union, rather than the destruction of the South. His policy was the olive branch in one hand and the sword in the other, to conquer by power and conciliate by kindness. It was a most dangerous policy for us; for if the amellorating hand of Federul kindness had softened the status of the status Union, rather than the destruction of the South. His policy was the oilve branch in one hand and the sword in the other, to conquer by power and conciliate by kindness. It was a most damperous policy for us; for if the ameliorating hand of Federul kindness had softened the rigora or vear, our people vouid not have been subjected to those terrible fires of suffering by which Mr. Lincoln has hardened every heart and steeled every sentiment against our mercliess loes. As a sincere secessionist, preferring war and nationality to peace and the Union, we looked upon the fact of a difference between Mr. Lincoln and General Afectellan as to the proper policy of conducting the war, as peculiarly fortunate for our cause. We halled the proclamations of emancipation and confiscation, and the policy of plunder and devastation as surpledges of our ultimate triumph; they were terrible ordeals, but they most effectually eradicated every sentiment of Union, and arousing the pride as well as the interest of our people, inflamed the patriotism of the whole, until they would have accepted death as preferable to ultimate defeat.

Now, between McClellan and Lincoln there are many points of difference—the former is a man of talents, of information, of firuncess and great military experience and ability—the latter is a supple, pliant, easy fool, a good but vulgar joker.

While McClellan, there could not have been the same success that has already attended our arms, for we lost more men fighting the science of McClellan, there could not have been the same success that has already attended our arms, for we lost more men fighting the science of McClellan on the Penisual than we have in replicate the suppression of the rebellion, and for military guees in a war conducted more military guees in a war conducted

The Great McClellan Ratification
Meeting in Cincinnati.

The Democracy of the Queen City had the presentest and grandest meeting last controlled by such a man as Guthrie. Our controlled by such a man as Guthrie. Our best hope is from the honest fanatics of the United States, men who believe in their hearts that slavery is the "sum of all villainies," and who really and sincerely believe it to be their duty to separate their country from this "relic of barbarism." Such men, when they find that their people are tired of the war, will end it by a peace that sacrifices territory to freedom, and will let the South "go," provided she carries slavery with her. These men believe no less that the just powers of government are derived from the consent of the government are derived from the consent of the governed, than "that all men are created free and equal." The two postulates are of like importance to an Abolitionist.

Both the Abolitionist and 'the Democratic out group, the one because we have is our enemy—the one, because we have slaves; the other, because we are disunionists. Nor does their enmity differ in de-greee; they both hate us most intensely. The Chicago platform is that "peace may be restored on the basis of the Federal Union of the States"-that is: reconstruction of the Union as it was—with silvery protected by nominal laws, but warred upon by a real sentiment, aggravated and embittered by the war. The reconstructed Union of the Chicago platform would be the certain destruction—first, or slavery, and next of slaveholders. With Lincoln and the Balti-more platform, we of the Confederate States know where we are-outside of the pale of mercy, devoted to ruin and destruction, with no hope save in the justice and protec-tion of God, and the courage and manliness of our soldiers and people. With swords and muskets and cannon we fight Lincoln, and the past affords no reasons of apprehen-sion of the future. But in the reconstruct-ed Union of the Chicago platform, we would be deprived of our weapons without being reconciled to our foes.

There is no question that between the two men Gen. McClellan enjoys far more of the respect of the people of these States than Lincoln, and the Democratic party far more of our confidence than the Republican, and that if reconstruction were possible it would be more probable under Gen. McClellan and the Democracy than under Lincoln and the Republicans. The Northwest inspires one, and New England the other; but as long as New England imposes the dogmas of her civili-zation, and the tenets of her tanaticism upon the mind and people of the Northwest there may be peace and separation, but there never can be union and harmony. It the Northwest desires the restoration of the Union, let its people shake off the bondage of New England, and show to the world that a new era of toleration and fraternal kindness has risen in the place of fanatical Puritanism and

The Soldiers for McClellan.

Yesterday a veteran, who had been in the war since its beginning, and, time expired, honorably discharged, was accosted on the street by a venerable stay-at-home bellig-erent Abolitionist from the "Burnt District," and asked to answer as to whom he fice, the past gives mournful evidence that intended to vote for for President.
"Geo. B. McClellan," immediately replies in the future no man can call anything he the brave man who had spilled his blood and risked his life for the flag, the Constitution, and the Union of our fathers.

"But don't you know, my friend," said the hoary headed Abolitionist, "that Mo-Clellan is a traitor?"

"Sir," replied the soldier, "you are an old man, but if you were younger than I am I would tell you just what I am going to say to you. Any man who says George B. Mc-Clellan is a traitor is a liar. I shall vote for him, and soldiers who have served their country as I have tried to serve it, will vote for him, too. To test the matter, sir, let us call that soldier passing along on the oppo-site side of the street, and ask him for whom he will vote."

The soldier passing was called. He came. Mr. Venerable Abolitionist put the question:

"For whom will you vote at the Presidential election?" "George B. McClellan," was the prompt and patriotic reply, "and so will all the boys of my company."

It was afterwards ascertaind, although the soldier who held the confibulation did not know it, that the venerable Abolitionist was no less a toad in the puddle than the Hon. David Kilgore, late free-nigger Rep-resentative in Congress from the Fifth In-diana District.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

Kalida, Ohio, Sept. 15, 1864. Col. Jesse S. Norton, Toledo, Ohio: MY DEAR COLONEL:—Your letter of the 13th inst. was received to-day. I tender my warm thanks for its friendly terms, kind wishes and congratulations in my late nomination for Congress. My nomination was certainly unsought and unlooked for. My service in the army, commencing when the first blow was struck at our nationality, and soon after leaving College, has so fully engrossed my time and attention, that parties and the civil departments of the Government have received very little thought, least of all that I should very little thought, least of all that I should be a candidate for office.

NEW TESTIMONIALS.

[From the Home Journal, June 4th.]

In every business or profession, indeed in every department of science or skill, there is always some acknowledged had—some one who stands out in bold relief among his fellows, as a sort of leader. In the study and treatment of deafness and catarrh, as special diseases, Dr. E. B. Lighthell, of this city, occupies just the position above described. He has devoted years of labor to this speciality, and is now reaping the reward of his industry. The editorial columns of the Tribune, of a recent date, bear witness to the Doctor's success in this department of medicine. We quote the paragraph:

"Cure of a Draf Muye.—Louis Loewinstein, a lad fourteen years of age, born in Germany, came to this city when he was about two years old. Ston after his arrival here he was taken sick and lost his hearing. By degrees he became first deaf and then dumb. For nearity ten years he was a mute, unable to hear the loudest voice, or to articulate a word.—About one year ago he was placed by his parents in the hands of Dr. Liohthell, who has so far succeeded in restoring to him his lost powers of hearing and utterance that he can converse with those who speak to him distinctly and deliberately. During the past four or five months he has been under the time to the paragraph of the par [From the Home Journal, June 4th.] Cox, we believe, has served eight years in Congress, and is considered the leader of the Democratic party in Congress. He is a ready debater, an eloquent speaker, and immensely popular at home and abroad. If he falls of an election, it will be from partisan prejudices, and apparent fraud at the ballot box. Mr. Cox is the most popular man in the District, and his unanimous nomination, unsought for by him, is a tribute to a worthy man .- Waverly Democrat.

erable progress in reading and arithmetic."

Having been supplied with the lad's address, we further investigated the matter, and discovered that, previous to calling on Dr. Lighthill, the youth's case was considered hopeless, and he was for two years an inmate of the Deaf and Dumb Asylum. The Rev. John Nott, D.D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady, in a published letter, tenders his gratitude to Dr. Lighthill, for treating successfully his case of deafness. Rev. FRED. S. JEWELL, Professor of the State Normal School at Albany, also testifies to having been cured of catarrh. Dr. Lighthill, possesses other testimonials and tributes to his talent from some of our wealthiest and most prominent and respected citizens, which may be seen on application. It would be difficult to speak in any but terms of praise of his treatment, in the face of these many proofs and facts testifying to his success. 10,000, he wanted the President to make a draft to fill up the army. Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 Gold Bond. In addition to the very liberal interest on the notes for three years, this privilege of conversion is now worth about three per cent. per annum, for the current rate for 5-20 Bonds is not less than nine per cent. premium, and before the war the premium on six percent, U. S. stocks was over twenty per cent. It will be seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the present market rate, is not less than ten per cent. per annum.

Its Exemption from State or Municipal Taxation.

[But aside from all the advantages we have enumer ated, a special Act of Congress exempts all bonds and Treasury notes from local taxation. On the average, this exemption is worth about two per cent. per annum, according to the rate of taxation in various parts of the country.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as those issued by the government. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities, only, is pledged for payment, while the whole property of the country is held to secure the discharge of all the obligations of the United States.

SPECIAL NOTICES

A CARD TO INVALIDS.

A Clergyman while residing in South America as a missionary, discovered a safe and simple remedy for the Cure of Nervous Weakness, Early Decay, Diseases of the Urinary and Seminal Organs, and the whole train of disorders brought on by baneful and vicious babits. Great numbers have been already cured by this noble remedy. Prompted by a desire to benefit the afflicted and unfortunate, I will send the recipe for preparing and using this medicine, in a scaled envelope, to any one who needs it, interesting child I saw last week! But now, alas! it is no more. Such was the conversation of two gentlemen riding down town in the cars. Died of croup! how strange! when Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment is a certain cure, if taken in time. Now. Mothers, we appeal to you. It is not for the paltry gain and profit we make, but for the sake of your infant child that now lies playing at your feet. Croup is a dangerous disease; but use Dr. Tobias' Venetian Liniment in time, and it is robbed of its terrors. Always keep it in the house; you may not want it
